Innsbruck, Austria, known as the “Capital of the Alps,” is a ski getaway like no other. Innsbruck is also a premier destination for those who seek a broader European experience than simply skiing. Nestled into a narrow valley beneath rugged mountain peaks, Innsbruck offers Old-World beauty and culture, including museums, galleries, restaurants, nightlife and shopping. Skiers and snowboarders have access to over 310 miles of trails in 25 surrounding village resorts connected by a free ski bus. There are eight major ski areas that provide varied terrain for all levels of skiers and snowboarders. A reasonably priced all-in-one lift pass covers the major ski resorts in the area including the Olympic villages of Igls and Axamer Lizum and the small villages of Tulfes, Mutters, and the Stubai Glacier.

After a week in Innsbruck, we will travel to Prague in the Czech Republic. Prague is the capital and largest city in the Czech Republic and is situated on the Vltava river. Prague’s beauty is said to rival Paris and has a rich culture and history. Many of Prague’s landmarks, such as the Charles Bridge, St. Vitus Cathedral, Prague Castle, and Old Town Square & Hall, are featured in many films. You’ll find no shortage of things to see and do in this beautiful Bohemian city.
